

SOCIETY OF MUNICIPAL ARBORISTS ACCREDITATION
FOR URBAN AND COMMUNITY FORESTRY PROGRAMS

Community forestry programs come in many variations, but every well organized and professionally managed program provides a wide array of valuable benefits to community residents and to the world beyond. Evaluating the efficacy of diverse and unique programs can be a challenge. Communicating success stories to local residents and community leaders can be just as challenging – but is vitally important.

The Urban and Community Forestry Program Accreditation offered by the SMA offers every community the opportunity to both evaluate its local program based on objective, professionally developed standards and to communicate to others the value and success of that local program.

Accredited Cities

City of Aspen, Colorado

Village of Glencoe, Illinois

City of Arlington, Texas

Village of Downers Grove, Illinois

City of Sacramento, California

City of Upper Arlington, Ohio

City of Carmel, Indiana

City of Westerville, Ohio

City of Santa Monica, California

City of Beaverton, Oregon

City of Eugene, Oregon

City of Palo Alto, California

City of Homewood, Illinois

Village of Mt. Prospect, Illinois

City of Surrey, British Columbia, Canada

City of Providence, Rhode Island

City of Portland, Oregon

City of Des Moines, Iowa